CHALLENGES IN THE PROFESSIONAL SERVICES
THE HIDDEN COSTS OF INEFFICIENT PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Projects always kick off with the best intentions, fueled by meticulous planning and high hopes. But all too often, they quickly encounter the same common challenges that have plagued the industry for years—unforeseen delays, budget overruns, and scope creep.

THE RESULT? Wasted resources, frustrated teams, and dissatisfied clients. Traditional PSA solutions can only do so much; they manage the chaos but can't predict or prevent it.

Only 2.5% companies complete all the projects they start

Only 47% of PS leaders have more than 70% of their projects meeting those goals, and for more than a fifth of PS leaders, the majority of their projects fail.

$122 M loss for every $1B spent on projects in the US

THE SMARTER APPROACH TO PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Imagine a solution that not only tracks your project's progress but also anticipates potential roadblocks and suggests corrective actions before issues escalate. This is the future of professional services where DATA-DRIVEN DECISIONS replace guesswork, and PREDICTIVE ANALYTICS ensures projects stay on track.

- Mark Smith,

"Today's task and project management systems do a great job of telling you what has already occurred. Organizations that want to improve project success may want to consider solutions that predict issues that haven't occurred yet. This is that type of solution.
